LEGISLATURE MEETS MONDAY

SEVERAL IMPORTANT MATTERS MAY COME UP FOR ACTION.

Oklahoma City, Ok., June 17.—The Fourth Legislature will again be in session Monday, June 23, to receive reports from the House General Investigating Committee, and to complete the passage of bills remaining on the calendars at the date of recess. The most important of these is the general appropriation bill which is pending in conference. An opinion advanced today was that the bill would have to be introduced a-new since a number of its provisions are said to be contrary to the constitution. The bill proposes to appropriate money and create positions in the same sentence, which, several members say, can not legally be done. Reintroduction of the measure means detail consideration of all the items in both houses of the legislature, and will use five days' time, providing there is no discussion. There would be no chance the members declare, to get the bill through without amendments being offered and the discussion taking the usual wide range.

Another bill pending before conference is that revising the general revenue laws, the chief point in controsession will not last more than a week or ten days at the outside. More than likely only a quorum will be present in each house, and if the session should string out longer than ten days, the quorums would be broken.

Gov. Cruce has not announced whether he will have new matter for the legislature. There are a series of messages waiting, all dealing with measures left by the legislature at the date of recess and which he has acted upon.

DEBATING INDIAN APPROPRIATION BILL

Washington, June 17.—Debate in the senate over the Indian appropriation bill waxed warm today and consideration of the measures finally went over until tomorrow without a vote.

Senator Lane of Oregon, member of the Indian committee, charged his as-

AID DEMONSTRATION WORK

Ardmore, Ok., June 18.—This morning the board of county commissioners decided to grant the request of the secretary of the Commercial Club for $500, to continue farm demonstration work in this county and asked that his request be put in the form of a petition and sanctioned by the board of directors of the Commercial Club.

Mr. West immediately had the petition prepared and will have the directors act on it before formally presenting it to the county commissioners.

The action of the board of county commissioners assures the farmers of the county that the work under the supervision of a farm expert will be continued in Carter county for another year.

Commencement Day at Yale.

New Haven, Conn., June 18.—Accompanied by all the pomp and ceremony characteristic of similar previous occasions, the annual commencement exercises of Yale University were held today. Occupying seats on the platform in Woolsey Hall, where the exercises were held, were former President William H. Taft and many other distinguished guests. The dinner of the alumni in the university dining hall followed the commencement exercises. Later in the afternoon President Hadley held his customary reception in Memorial Hall.

versy being the gross production tax to be laid against coal, oil and gas. The law now calls for one-half of 1 per cent, and the bill proposes to make it 1 per cent. Some of the conferees declared they would not agree on the 1 per cent basis. Senator Campbell Russell, president of the People's Power League, has addressed letters to members of the organization, asking for suggestions in regard to initiating a flat 2 per cent tax against the gross production of the minerals, and dividing the tax between the counties and the state.

Another provision in the pending bill which the conferees will not submit to, according to their version, is that which proposes to render much of the special oil-coal-gas tax subject to general state warrants. The existing law says that the money collected from these sources not specifically appropriated by the legislature shall go into the public school fund. The new bill carries a clause that sweeps the school fund aside, and proposes to make the unappropriated portion of the special tax available for general state warrants. It was charged today that one purpose of the clause is to further the capitol building situation by providing cash for state warrants which may be issued for that project. Members of the House side of the conference committee will refuse to agree to such diversion of the funds.

Other bills pending in conference are the marriage or eugenics measure and the general road law. The last named abolishes the State Highway Department. There are also a large number of measures pending upon the calendars which may or may not be taken up.

A large batch of reports will be ready for the Legislature from the House General Investigating Committee. In addition to a special report touching each department inquired into, the committee will issue a summary to the public showing what it has accomplished, and what has been found. The special reports will go more into detail than will the summary. Nearly every department has been brought within the scope of the committee's work.

It is understood the committee's findings for the most part will be without recommendation. What are regarded as flagrant violations of law have been found.

Unless the forecasters go wrong, the Senator Gallinger had stricken out a provision for the settling of some 20,000 land suits in Eastern Oklahoma saying that they must be of importance to some one and he had not had sufficient information in regard to the wisdom of the legislation.

A debate over the annulment of contracts with Indians relating to tribal funds was in full swing when the senate adjourned.

Senator Fall had declared the committee was seeking to annul contracts because it was charged a lobbyist held them. He declared holding up the Indians thus while some one robbed them, was small business for senators. Senator Ashurst replied that the facts were that Ex-Senators and lobbyists were seeking to rob the Indians.

Declaring that the Indian Bureau had the reputation of being the "very flower of fraud," secretary Lane today began a wholesale attack on items in the Indian appropriation bill when it comes up for passage.

"I am told Indians who have been many years in the happy hunting grounds are still carried on the rolls," he said.

Centenary of River Raisin Massacre.

Monroe, Mich., June 18.—Exercises in observance of the centennial anniversary of the "River Raisin Massacre" were held today on the battlefield site near this place. The actual date of the massacre was January 23, 1813. On January 22 of that year Gen. Winchester, with about 800 Americans, was encamped on the river, when Gen. Proctor, with 1,500 British and Indians fell upon them. After a severe action Gen. Winchester surrendered under promise of protection from the Indians. After the withdrawal of the British, however, the Indians returned, and killed the scalped several hundred of the defenceless Americans.

A FAIR WARNING

One That Should Be Heeded by Ada Residents.

Frequently the first sign of kidney trouble is a slight ache or pain in the loins. Neglect of this warning makes the way easy for more serious troubles—dropsy, gravel, Bright's disease. 'Tis well to pay attention to the first sign. Weak kidneys generally grow weaker and delay is often dangerous. Residents of this locality place reliance in Doan's Kidney Pills. This tested remedy has been used in kidney trouble over 50 years—is recommended all over the civilized world. Read the following:

J. M. Page, carpenter, Fourth St., Holdenville, Okla., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. They are just as represented. My kidneys were disordered and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage and filled with sediment. My back ached and I had pains through my sides. When I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them and they soon made me well."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

OKLAHOMA STATE FAIR

PREMIUM BOOK ISSUED

The Premium List for the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition, Oklahoma City, September 23 to October 4, 1913, has just been issued. It has been carefully revised and approaches the ideal. There are 240 pages from cover to cover and the entire book is brimful of news about what promises to be the best State Fair and Exposition in the history of Oklahoma.

In announcing the awards, educational and amusement features and all other details of this year's big fair, officers say they have endeavored to provide an exposition that will be the final word in every thing such an institution should be. It is pointed out that this revision of the Premium List has been made with a view of bringing out the best of everything in agricultural products, livestock of every description, manufactured products and other things that contribute to the progress of Oklahoma and likewise the Oklahoma State Fair and Exposition. The divisions and classes have been arranged this year to meet the demands.

Here are some of the new features of the 1913 State Fair and Exposition as shown by the Premium List. Naffello and his great band for the entire fair period. The Great Patterson Shows, with more than twenty attractions. United States soldiers in exhibition drills and war maneuvers. "Better Babies" Contest, with $500 in cash premiums. Shaw's comedy animal circus—one of many free shows. The Three Duttons, society equestrians—Horse Show act. Fourth annual Horse Show for five nights second week of fair. Famous grand opera singers and numerous band novelties. Alexander the Great, "the man monkey with the human brain." Immense night program, entirely new feature this year. Many costly permanent attractions going night and day. High class harness and running races daily for eleven days. Reduced rates on all Oklahoma railroads during the fair.

Ten thousand copies of the Premium List are now being sent out to persons all over Oklahoma and the Southwest, and any person interested in an exhibit may secure a book by writing to I. S. Mahan, Secretary, Oklahoma City.

Take Degrees at Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—Three hundred and thirty collegiate seniors of the University of Pennsylvania received their degrees at the 157th commencement today in the Metropolitan Opera House. "Boss" Cox to the Bar Again.

Cincinnati, O., June 18.—The case of George B. Cox, the financier and former political leader, who is under indictment in connection with the failure of the Cincinnati Trust company, was called for trial today. The specific charge is the misapplication of $115,000 of the trust company's funds. This is the second trial of Cox within a month, he having been acquitted only a few weeks ago on a charge of having misapplied $352,500.

Preparing for Fall Gardens.

There are several reasons why more fall gardens are not planted in Oklahoma. Possibly one reason is that many people are accustomed to raising but one garden, as this was all that was possible in the state from which they came.

The principal reason is the fact that when harvesting time comes cultivation of the spring vegetables ceases. As a result the garden patch grows up in grass and weeds, and the moisture and some plant food is wasted. Under the conditions just mentioned many people become discouraged and do not attempt a garden, and those who do, make only a partial success, and in many cases a complete failure.

If you have already gotten your ground ready, do not lose any time. Cut the grass and weeds, break and prepare the soil as thoroughly as possible. A timely rain will enable you to finish preparing your soil and plant it.

Moisture is the main factor, and therefore plan to catch and retain all moisture possible. A soil that was manured with barnyard manure for spring crops will usually be able to produce a full crop. In case manure be used at this season of the year, it should be well rotted.

Too few stop to figure how much a little garden will save a family. Again consider the fact that with a successful garden you will have a greater variety on the table, and in most cases of superior quality.—D. C. Mooring, Department of Horticulture and Botany, Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater.

Washington Notes.

Applications for rehearings of the cut rate patent decision and the Denver water case were denied by the supreme court.

Walker K. Vick of Burlington, N. J., prominently identified with President Wilson's campaign, was appointed general receiver of customs at San Domingo.

President Wilson does not plan to attend the fiftieth anniversary celebration of the Battle of Gettysburg next month. He will be at the summer White House at Cornish, N. H., over July 4.

Secretary Bryan, upon the authority of President Wilson, issued a statement announcing the purpose of the administration to maintain the civil service principle in the consular service.

CHAUTAUQUA

THE Chautauqua will stir up enthusiasm and interest in a great number of fine things.

Take the case of the business man. He will be crammed full of new ideas on business, politics, religion and what not.

Every woman will get a new look at the things which concern her. All at once, the young folks will become interested in a lot of big things they never dreamed of before. And the boys and girls will be wishing they could be a little bigger so they "could do something."

These dreams are what make the LIFE of a community.

If the Chautauqua suggests that something be torn down, it offers a means by which something better can be built up. Its whole purpose is constructive.

These new dreams the Chautauqua leaves, pay if you keep dreaming and start working as you dream.

And then KEEP AT IT.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles. Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint. I took Cardui, and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did." Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strength-building tonic medicine for women. It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times.

Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs.

Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it.

WILL WIDEN SCOPE OF EXTENSION WORK

This morning at chapel President Briles stated that it was the purpose of the normal to greatly enlarge the scope of the extension course offered non-resident students who are working for credits or certificates. He also explained that when any county displayed sufficient interest to organize, a member of the normal faculty would be sent there once a month to assist and regulate the work.

He concluded his remarks by asking how many present at the time desired to take the work. That plan met with the hearty approval of the teacher-students, was shown by the fact that 168 instantly signified their desire to participate in the work.

This extension course gives the non-resident students the opportunity of self improvement during the time he is unable to attend the normal, and also does much to keep a large body of loyal students in touch with headquarters.

SPROWLES TO LOG ROAD DENISON TO OKLA. CITY

Denison, Tex., June 17.—Frank Sproyles, who has been appointed by the Denison Automobile club to log the road from Denison to Oklahoma City, will leave Tuesday morning to commence his task. His route going will be by the way of Carpenter's Bluff and the M. O. & G. bridge to Durant, thence to Oklahoma City.

Returning he will leave Durant to the east and cross Red River at the ferry near Preston Bend. This will make nearly an air line from Denison to Oklahoma City giving tourists the privilege of two routes.

The Chamber of Commerce has up with the Auto Club of Dallas the matter of logging the road from Denison to Dallas, so that tourists may be routed through Denison both north and south. The log of the road north to Oklahoma City will be finished and ready for distribution next Monday.

STATE HIGHWAYMAN SPENDS DAY IN ADA

This morning Hon. Sidney Suggs, veteran newspaper man of Ardmore, and for the past four or five years state commissioner of highways ways—from which he derives his title of highwayman—blew into the city to talk good roads and incidentally to see after some delinquent taxes on autos.

Although his dimensions are not as meager as those of some men we know, every inch of him seems full and crowded with enthusiasm for good roads. He urges an active and compact organization of Pontotoc county, and as a preliminary looked over the map of the county roads prepared by G. A. Truitt, county surveyor. Mr. Suggs declared that it was the best of the kind he had found anywhere.

According to a newspaper man at the Bartlesville meeting, after several unsuccessful attempts had been made by the legislature to abolish his office, the usual morning greeting among the legislators became: "Have you abolished Sidney again?" However, he has not yet been abolished and the special session will have to

Mother's Advice To Her Daughter

A Real Live Doll to Fondle Is Woman's Greatest Happiness.

One of the most important matters about which women concern themselves is their future status as a grandmother. And she is wisdom itself who knows of or learns of that famous remedy, Mother's Friend. This is an external application for the abdominal muscles and breasts. It certainly has a wonderful influence, allays all fear, banishes all pain, is a most grateful encouragement to the young, expectant mother, and permits her to go through the period happy in mind, free in body and destined to anticipate woman's greatest happiness as nature intended she should. The action of Mother's Friend makes the muscles free, pliant and responsive to expansion. Thus all strain and tension upon the nerves and ligaments is avoided, and, in place of a period of discomfort and consequent dread, it is a season of calm repose and joyful expectation. There is no nausea, no morning sickness, no nervous twitching, none of that constant strain known to so many women, hence Mother's Friend is really one of the greatest blessings that could be devised. This splendid and certain remedy can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle, and is sure to prove of inestimable value, not only upon the mother, but upon the health and future of the child. Write to Bradfield Regulator Co., 132 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their book to expectant mothers.

More Buildings for Masonic Home

Oklahoma City, June 17.—Bids for the construction of a boys' dormitory, which will cost approximately $20,000 and a chapel for the order of the Eastern Star, which will cost about $8,000 will be opened at a special meeting of the board of control of the Masonic Orphans' home, which will be held in Oklahoma City, June 24. Plans for the two structures have been prepared and with the awarding of the contract work probably will be started immediately. The board will hold its meeting in Oklahoma City at the Masonic temple, Third street and Broadway.

The board is now planning to purchase an automobile for use at the home, the money being raised by popular subscription among the Shriners of the state. In the three temples, India in Oklahoma City, Bedouin at Muskogee and Akdar at Tulsa, there are 3,700 shriners and it is proposed to assess each member 50 cents, which would net about $1,800. The campaign already has been started and responses are being received by the board. Some of the members have contributed from 50 cents to $100.

All bids on the boys' dormitory should be handed to William M. Anderson, grand secretary, Masonic temple, Oklahoma City.

Charles L. Reeder, grand master, is holding a series of visitations during this month, and will be at Pawhuska on June 18, at El Reno on Saturday night, June 21, at Kingfisher on Monday night, June 23 and at Oklahoma City on St. John's day—Tuesday, June 24.

The board of control of the Masonic home, together with the grand master, grand secretary and others interested, will hold a meeting beginning Saturday night, June 21, will spend Sunday and Monday, June 22 and 23, at the Masonic home at Darlington and will hold its meeting in the Masonic temple June 24. All Masons who desire to do so are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

The county treasurer's office has been very active lately collecting the second half of the taxes for 1912. Quite a sum has been taken in, and Saturday the deposits from this source totaled $25,000.

The Daughter of David Kerr

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Gloria Kerr, a motherless girl who has spent most of her life at school, arrives at her father's home in Belmont. David Kerr is the political boss of the town and is anxious to prevent his daughter learning of his real character.

CHAPTER II—Kendall, representing the Chicago packers, is negotiating with Judge Gilbert, Kerr's chief adviser, for a valuable franchise. They fear the opposition of Joe Wright, editor of the reform paper.

CHAPTER III—Kerr asks the assistance of Judge Gilbert in introducing Gloria to Belmont society and promises to help him put through the packers' franchise and let him have all the graft.

CHAPTER IV—Gloria meets Joe Wright at the Gilberts. It appears they are on intimate terms, having met previously in a touring party in Europe.

CHAPTER V—Gloria tells Wright of her failure to keep an engagement to meet her in Paris. He explains that the death of his mother prevented his going to Paris.

CHAPTER VI—The Gilberts invite Gloria to stay with them pending the return of the Kerr home.

CHAPTER VII—One society bud who refused to meet Gloria is forced to do so when her father is made to feel Kerr's power.

CHAPTER VIII—Wright begins his fight against the proposed franchise in the columns of his paper, the Belmont News.

CHAPTER IX—Kerr, through his henchmen, exerts every influence to hamper Wright in the publication of his paper.

CHAPTER X—Gloria realizes she is not being received by the best society and is unhappy. She takes up settlement work.

CHAPTER XI—Kerr and his lieutenants decide to buy Kerr's paper and ask the editor to meet them at Gilbert's office.

CHAPTER XII—Wright in his desire to keep from Gloria knowledge of her father's position, avoids her during the fight. Gloria is piqued.

CHAPTER XIII—Calling at Gilbert's office to solicit a donation Gloria meets Wright. He proposes and is accepted while waiting to be called into the conference.

CHAPTER XIV—Wright refuses to sell his paper and declares he will fight to a finish.

CHAPTER XV—The Belmont News appears with a bitter attack on Kerr. Gloria calls Wright a coward and refuses to listen to any explanation from him.

"That's nothing, only a crowd of newsboys raising a racket. Gloria, listen to me. We must get away from here. Even if you're happy in Belmont, I'm not. Won't you do this for me? Let's get away from this office and talk it over."

She shook her head, and refused to move.

"Gloria, you must do as I say without question. Just this once, please."

Both turned at this instant, as did the others, startled by a hubbub in the outer office. Suddenly the door was burst open violently by young Jim Winthrop, the Banner's political reporter. He rushed breathlessly into the room, flourishing a copy of the Belmont News. Following him came Williams with a look of amazement on his face as he read the headlines of the copy of the paper he had.

"Judge Gilbert! Judge Gilbert!" gasped the reporter, with eyes for no one else. "Have you seen the News? Big story about the belt line railway and the 'lection! Gimme the facts so I can show the News up."

"Let me see your paper."

"Here it is—with big headlines."

Wright knew better than anyone else in the room what was in the paper. What was written there was not for Gloria's eyes to see, nor for her ears to hear.

"You must go, Gloria. Don't stay for this; I'll drive you to Locust Lawn."

He was almost out of the room with her when something the reporter said caused her to stop.

"The News says David Kerr is back of it," exclaimed Winthrop, holding up the paper for Judge Gilbert to see, "and that it's the biggest steal in the history of Belmont."

"What's that?" Kerr demanded, coming forward.

"I didn't see you, Mr. Kerr," the reporter apologized, "but here it is on the front page."

"Come, Gloria," Wright pleaded with her.

"I can't go yet."

Beside her stood Williams, still engaged in reading the flaring headlines of the paper he had brought into the room with him. She seized his paper from him and began to read the startling words.

"It's an infamous lie!" shouted Gilbert, crushing in his hands the paper he had been scanning. "Dr. Hayes, will you please escort Miss Gloria and Mrs. Hayes to their carriage?"

"Stop!" commanded Gloria. The hum of indignation sweeping over the room was stilled. All turned to the daughter of David Kerr. "Is this true?"

"What?" asked Gilbert.

"What the paper says?" She held up the paper, her hands trembling. Then she began to read: "If the party now in power wins, Belmont will surely be sold to the mercenary stockyards terminal trust. The deal, which means millions for the unscrupulous cronies and nothing for Belmont, is engineered by that king of underhand manipulators, one no less unscrupulous than the very men to whom he would sell his town, David Kerr!"

There was horror in her tones and she held the paper from her as a thing unclean.

"Is this true?" she demanded imperiously.

"Not a word of it," Judge Gilbert was quick to answer.

"Not you," She turned to David Kerr. "Father, is it true?"

The boss of Belmont looked like some wounded wild animal brought to bay. He gazed with speechless rage at Joe Wright, and then looked at his daughter. She stood with arm outstretched to him, a mute but eloquent appeal for a denial. The big man shook himself, as if calling forth all his strength for a final effort, and straightened himself to his full height. Looking her squarely in the eye he replied firmly:

"No, Gloria, it ain't true."

The sigh she gave as her arm dropped to her side seemed to be a prayer of thanksgiving that he had come through the ordeal unscathed. She knew he would, but she wanted the words of denial from his own lips. Her next order showed every one that she was the daughter of David Kerr.

"Then punish the man, who published the lie."

Wright's heart seemed to stop beating as he heard the words that had in them all the finality of a funeral bell.

Kerr had his own reasons for wishing to minimize the matter. Joe Wright he would willingly, gladly have sacrificed, but he did not know how it would react on Gloria. He could find means to make the newspaper man suffer without Gloria being cognizant of the fact.

"That's just Western politics," The boss tried to pass it off lightly. "Don't let that bother you."

"He must be punished, I say." Her indignation knew no bounds. "Would you let it go unchallenged that I am the daughter of such a man?"

Kerr was aroused by her spirited manner. It would be necessary, he saw, for him to carry it through to the end.

"Suppose it was Joe Wright?" he asked.

The occasion was too serious for a smile, but in her heart she laughed away the suggestion. She wanted to show her contempt for a man who through a newspaper would utter such lies, and she therefore replied:

"That can't be. He isn't that kind of a man. But if he did, I would still say—"

"It is Joe Wright," Kerr roared. All leaned forward to hear what the girl would say.

"Then I would still say, 'Punish Joe Wright.'"

From Wright's lips there burst forth one word:

"Gloria!"

He came a step toward her, and she turned to him with an assuring smile.

"I don't believe it, Joe." Again she addressed her father and with fine scorn declared, "It's a lie. He couldn't do it. You don't know him as I do."

Turning once more to the man she loved, she said proudly, "Say it's a lie, Joe."

The two stood gazing at each other, utterly oblivious of everything else in the world. In her eyes there was nothing of doubt. She put into her look all the love and confidence she had promised would always be his. With Wright it was far otherwise. No matter what he said, the fact could not be kept from her. She would investigate. At the top of his editorial page that day were the words, "Owned and edited by Joseph Wright." He had just sworn that he would be the champion of the people of Belmont, and here at his first trial he was quailing under the eyes of the woman he loved. With a wrench he tore himself away from his dear desire to save her from pain and answered huskily:

"You don't understand."

"You!" she cried in an agony of despair as she realized he was confessing.

A single movement of his head showed his assent.

"Oh, you coward!" Her disgust was overpowering. The withering contempt she put into her words was equalled by her look of scorn. He started to speak, but with a gesture of impatience she stopped him.

"All your words are lies, lies, lies! And to think that I promised within this hour to be your wife! You make me hate myself for ever having looked at you. Now I understand why you urged me to leave Belmont." Again he tried to speak. "Not a word. I'll not listen to you. Father, take me home."

NOBODY CAN TELL IF YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

It isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's." While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur"; it surely helps folks appear years younger. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Ada, Okla.

Druggist Says When Mixed With Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching, and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss. Some druggists make their own, but

Condition of Cotton Crop Great

(By J. B. TURNER.)

Correspondents reports make it quite clear that the crop promise west of the river is the best of recent years for that territory as a whole and that in Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama is only slightly less good.

Growth in these districts during the week was not rapid owing to low temperatures, but no harm has been done that a few days of warmth will not quickly overcome. Altogether in these central and western states the size of the plant does not run so large as it has done in other years. But it is most healthy and seems quite ready to make rapid growth once sustained warm weather begins. But of more importance at this season than mere size is the perfect state of cultivation and soil tilth, which is the striking characteristic of the entire territory. During the seven days rainfall was generally abundant and beneficial.

In Georgia and the two Carolinas the condition does not appear so high as at the close of last week, the loss being due to record breaking cold for June and continuous daily rains. Practically no field work was done and there is much fear of grass. Weather of the coming week will have an important bearing on the outcome in these states. If dry and warm improvement will be quick. If more rains fall losses will occur, which only a favorable later season can correct.

Oklahoma—Plant wants sunshine to force growth, but with this exception crop in ideal shape. Week's rains of wonderful benefit.

Texas—Excellent week as whole. Specially good north and west where rain was abundant. Rain would be beneficial south central and southern counties, but no suffering, although plant is small. Grass hoppers numerous west, but have done no damage to cotton. Southern counties say plant blooming freely.
